Associate/Full Professor Position in Exercise and Sport Psychology
Department of Kinesiology, College of Education, Michigan State University

The Department of Kinesiology at Michigan State University is seeking a faculty member at the associate or full professor level with expertise in exercise and sport psychology to complement our interdisciplinary work in pediatric kinesiology and/or physical activity behavior. Established scholars with a track record of collaborative and funded research are encouraged to apply. The ideal candidate will enhance the research and grant portfolio of the department, be committed to quality teaching and mentoring of undergraduate and graduate students, and value service to the institution, profession, and community. The position is a 9-month tenure-system appointment with an August 16, 2016 start date.

Duties:
- Conduct a vigorous, cutting-edge scholarly research program that will augment department recognition and enhance graduate student recruitment.
- Seek and obtain external funding.
- Teach in all modes of delivery and at all levels in areas of expertise and department curricular need.
- Recruit, advise, and mentor graduate students at the masters and doctoral levels.
- Perform service as appropriate to the department, college, university, profession, and community.

Qualifications:
Applicants should have an earned relevant doctoral degree. The successful candidate must show evidence of: (a) significant scholarly accomplishment, (b) success in acquiring external funding, (c) high-quality college-level teaching, (d) effective graduate student mentoring, and (e) meaningful service contributions. Preference will be given to candidates who can foster scholarly connections within the department and across campus. Also, interest in graduate program leadership and mentoring of junior faculty will be particularly valued. The capacity to develop scholarly connections and to offer leadership/mentoring should be specifically addressed within the letter of application.

Application and Deadline:
Interested candidates should send a tailored letter of application, curriculum vitae, reprints of up to three recent publications, and names, addresses, email, and telephone numbers of three references electronically to: jobs.msu.edu, posting number 1967. Questions regarding the position may be directed to members of the search committee: Alan L. Smith, alsmith@msu.edu, Search Committee Chair and Kinesiology Chair; Karl Erickson, kte@msu.edu, Kinesiology Faculty; Kimberly Fenn, kfenn@msu.edu, Psychology Faculty; Karin Pfeiffer, kap@msu.edu, Kinesiology Faculty; and Stephen Samendinger, samendin@msu.edu, Kinesiology Graduate Student Representative. Review of applications will begin on October 26, 2015. Please visit our webpage (www.education.msu.edu/kin/) for further information about the Department of Kinesiology. Michigan State University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Michigan State University is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.